Debbie,

I've only begun to get to know you. You really are neat! Don't change. Good luck in future years.

Lots of Luck
Kathy Howell

Debbie,

You told me not to lie to you so that makes things easy. I sure wish I had a chance to get to know you better. Debbie I'm being honest to you. you're the nicest girl I've since I've been at Whitehaven.

(Pete)

Debbie,
I know this is going to sound funny to you, but I would first like to thank you for all the little things you've said to me about in the future years and for talking to me about my future and career. I also would like to say I'm sorry for all the misunderstandings we've been friends for a long, long time and I suppose why we had a few misunderstandings this year but I had to go through the year again. I'm sure I would have done it differently. Debbie thanks you so much for talking to me & helping me to talk to, feel free to call me at any time. I really need someone to talk to, feel free to call me play practice. If you ever need someone to talk to, feel free to call me a lot of things. If you "Everything", and may God Bless You!
thanks again for

Love

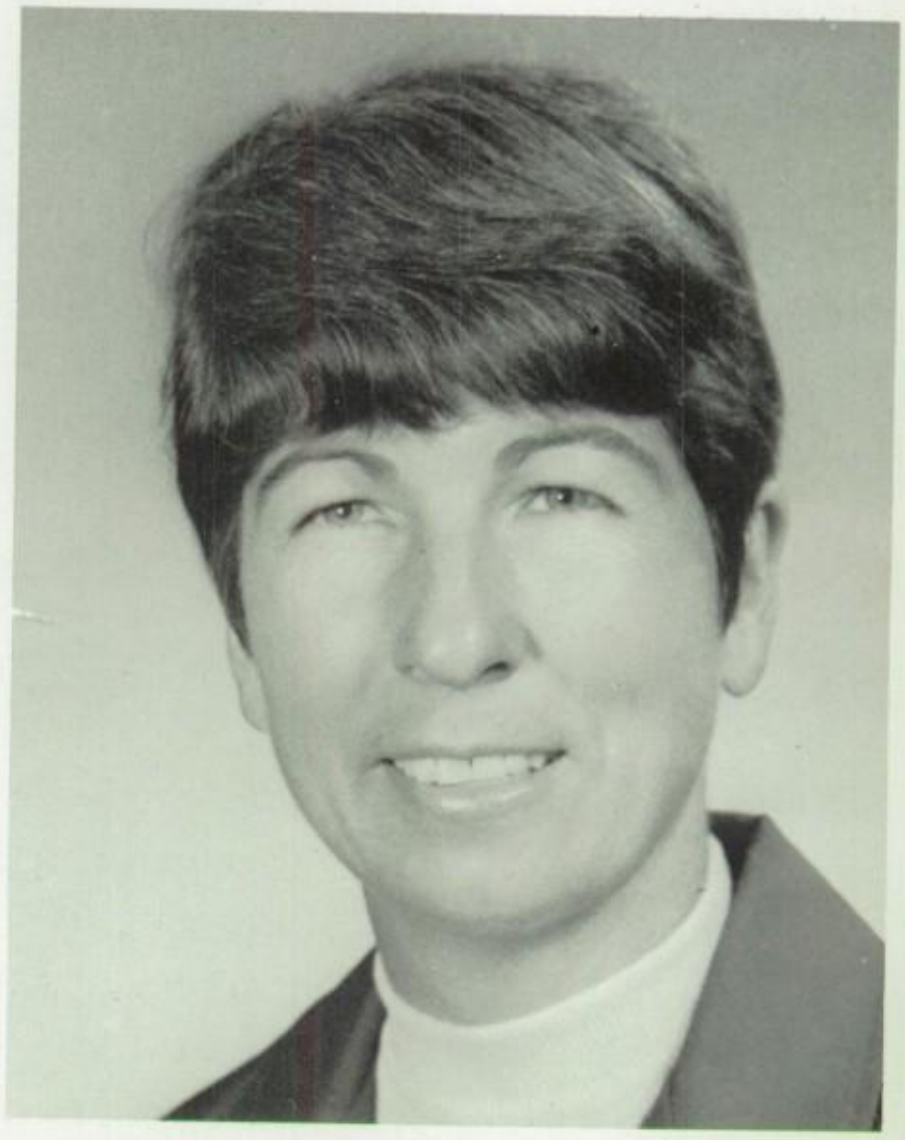
Volume XXXIII

Dedication



This has been a school year filled with changes, but Whitehaven High School continues to excel in many areas of achievement. It is with great pleasure that we dedicate this annual to two outstanding persons within our school society. Through this dedication we give rightful recognition to two women who are responsible for the continuance of one of the finest athletic programs for girls . . . Miss Nancy Cooper and Miss Betty Emerson.

To Debi;
You're a really nice girl. We had fun this year in the HRI
car pool to the games.
Lots of luck always Love Steve (HRI)

A TIME OF PARADOX

From birth a child is a student of the world — of Nature, of people, of society. He finds himself at the center of a surrounding panorama of experiences. At times he will be lost, discouraged by failures and disappointments. At other times he will be exalted — praised by society for his achievements and advances.

School is but one system — perhaps the most important — whose changes influence the student. At school he is confronted with changes in courses and in personalities. Last year's course becomes irrelevant and last year's enemy becomes this year's best friend.

The student studies the history of his world and draws analogies to his modern world. He learns of past wars and revolutions and compares them to the wars and revolutions in his society. He reads about the log cabins of a hundred years ago while he gazes through the window at an elaborate structure called the Mall.

The student is taught by one whose wisdom and knowledge he respects. Yet, on the day when he too stands in this position of respect, he will still remain a student of the world.

Thus, in this world of continuous change, the student never ceases to learn from the past — from his mistakes and from his successes. And this knowledge better equips him to cope with the changes in the Present and to seek for their improvement in the Future.

Debbie,

I think your very nice from what Tommy says about you and we both think that your really a great person. In many ways I admire you because you really are different. I hope I can become closer to you in the upcoming year and this summer. I hope I can follow in your steps as a sensuous, voluptuous woman! (make Tommy happy!)

(charlotte's word)

Really. I'm not being sarcastic either.

Maybe we'll see each other at the club a lot!

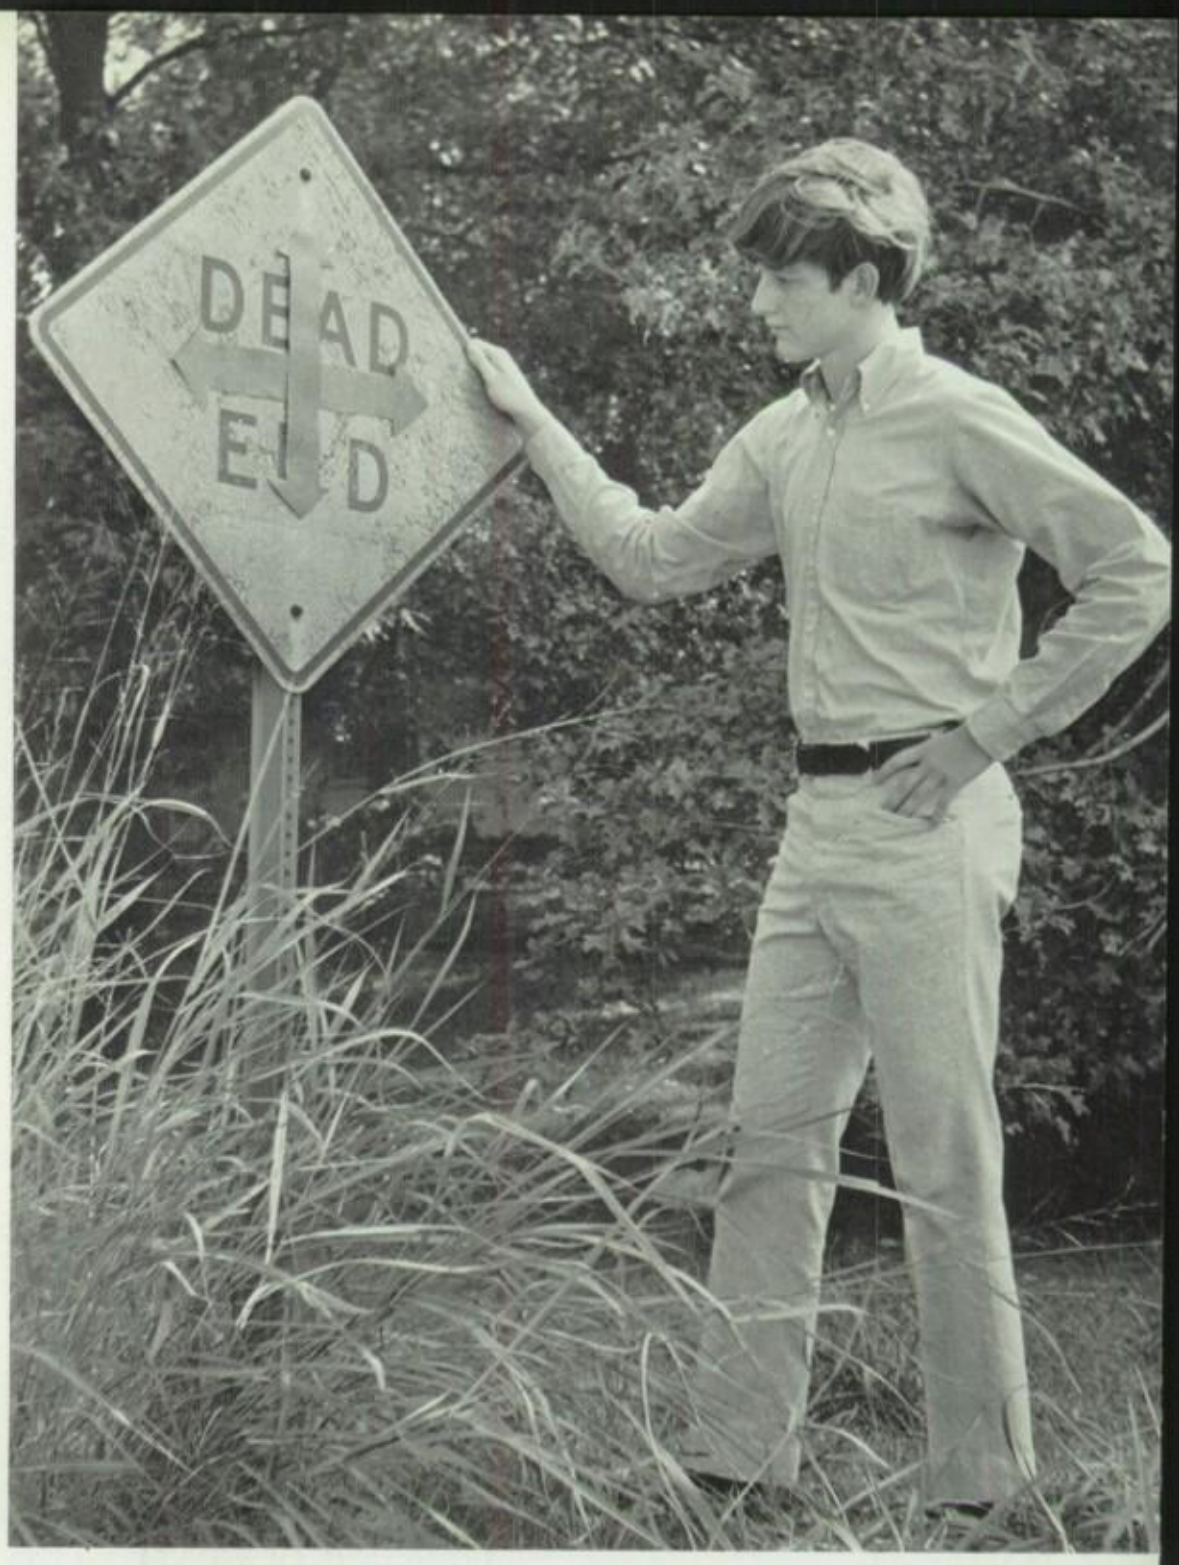
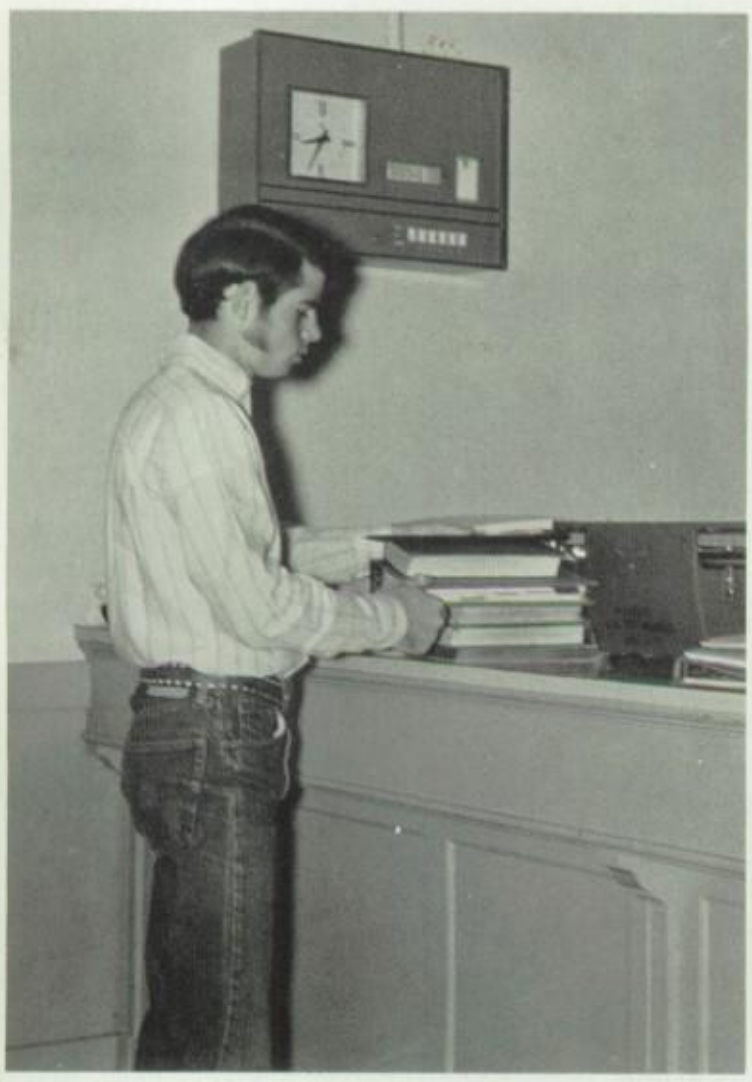
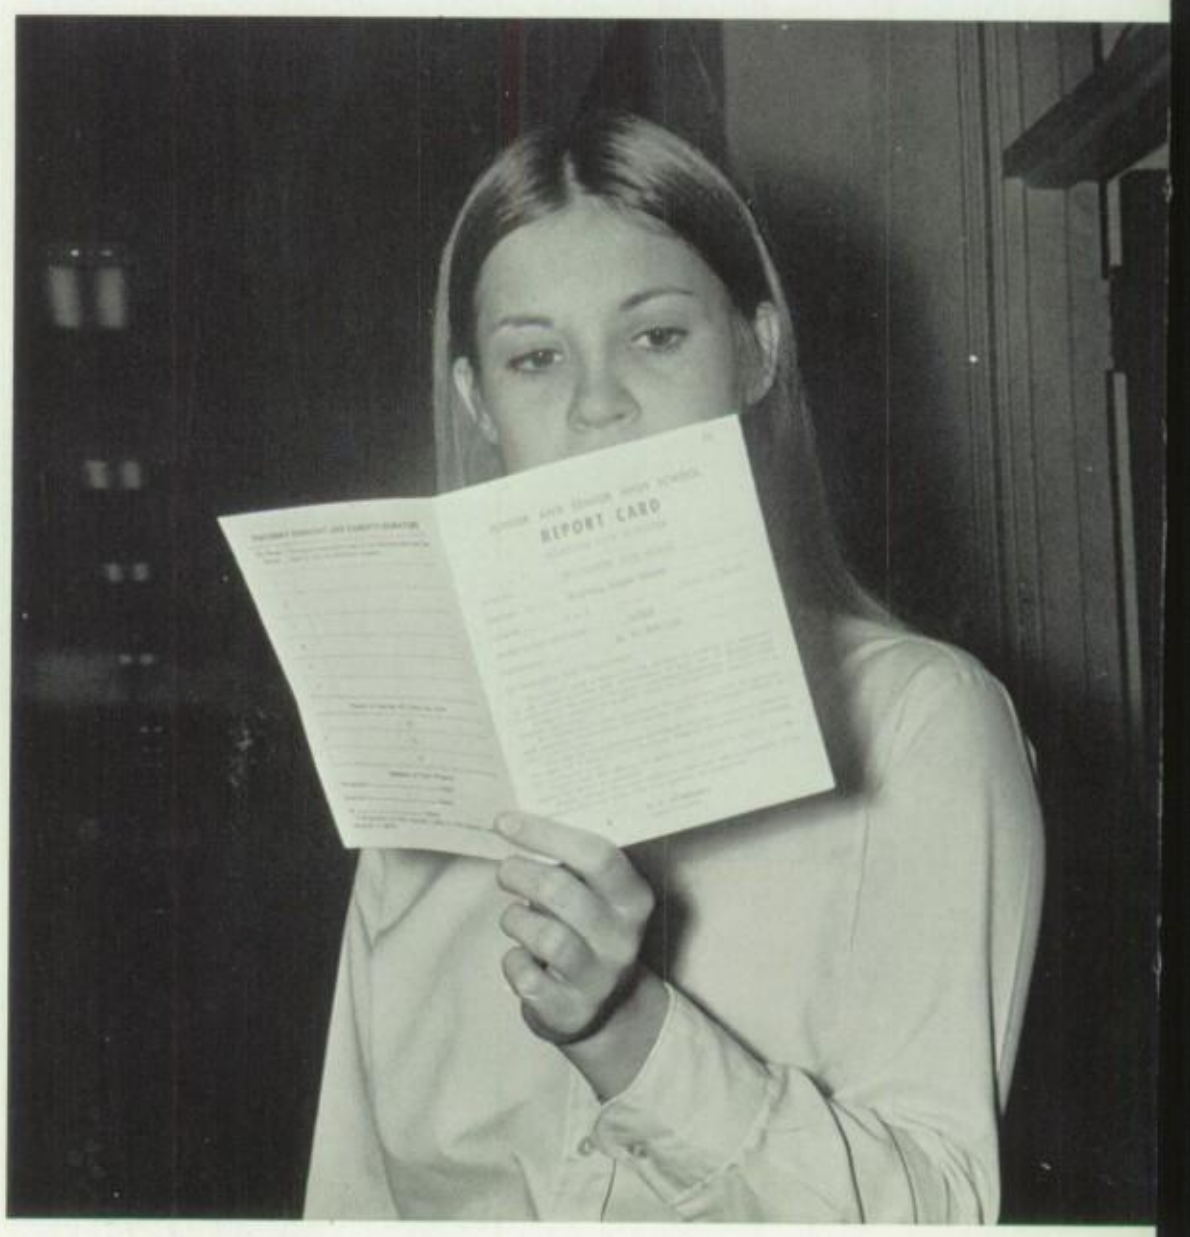
ADVERTISEMENTS

This is the time of paradox: a time of change, a time of thought, a time of new government, of new systems — the age which has today's student as its nucleus. He is in the midst of the entire spectrum, looking at both ends, learning from both ends.

This is the crucial question: which way will he turn after he has observed and learned?







BOARD OF EDUCATION
MEMPHIS CITY SCHOOLS

A time of the old, a time of the new —
A time to build up, a time to tear down —
A time of affluence, a time of poverty —
A time to learn from one another; the young from the old and the old from the young.

One must look at the past generation and at the future one and then decide which way to go.

THIS IS THE TIME OF PARADOX.

In a confused and ever-changing world, ours was Youth.

Dear Debbie,

The time has come again for me to try and say how I feel about you in a silly look. Even though it seems stupid, I'll to my best to write it. This year, we've had some fantastic times, but the bad times have arrived also. But we've always worked them out, and somehow I feel that we always will. Just think, it was 3 whole years ago when we walked onto this campus as lowly freshmen. "Lowly" HA! I suppose we've come a long way since ~~then~~, but sometimes it seems as though everything is really the same. You know, having true friends is one of the greatest things in the whole world. I don't honestly know what I would do without you. You always seem to be around when I need you most. I thank you for that. I'm looking foward to Sat. night, enthusiastically. We'll show those seniors what is mean to party! I can't wait. You know we always look back on our underclassman days and say,

"Those were the days my friends,
We thought they'd never end,
We'd sing and dance
forever and a day.
We'd live the life we choose
We'd fight and never lose,
Those were the days,
Oh yes those were the days."

Gene Raskin

"Fill your life with sweet tommorows, Never mind what might have been".

But Debbie, I have a feeling that ~~those~~ these are the days and this is "only the begining" of what is to come forever! I am so happy & proud to say Debbie Whitington is my friend. Love, Liz Sherman

When I was a senior,
It was a very good year for
school spirit and football games.
We'd keep late hours
studying famous names.
Yes, it was a very good year
for old-time romances,
for friends and dances,
for fashion advances.
When I was a senior,
It was a very good year.

CROSSROADS

From far horizons each road winds
Across the years its separate way —
Threads lonely valleys, pulls its track
Up rugged mountains as it may.
Yet through the end each traveler seeks
Be distant from all other ends.
Here at the CROSSROADS all have paused
And mingled for a day as friends.

Autographs

Debbie,
In the past year I've lost many friends partly due to the president, etc. but you've always been there. It's really nice to have someone who you know won't stop talking behind your back. You're one person that I trust. I suppose I could tell you all the things you know how much I think of you. So I'm going to write something by Kahlil Gibran a lot of things have come between us this year, but things really don't matter; we do. I'll never forget last year when we were "so cold to everything" and just had enough warmth to keep us alive. Since then, we both have warmed up, but to different things. One of these days our time will come. How about some philosophy, that's what we're best at.

Hey, bub

"The most I can do for my friend is simply to be his friend. I have no wealth to bestow on him. If he knows I am happy in having him, he will want no other reward."

Thoreau

Dear Debbie,

ALL I CAN SAY TRUTHFULLY IS THAT YOU DESERVE A BETTER FRIEND THAN I HAVE BEEN TO YOU. I CAN REALLY SAY THAT YOU TRULY MEAN A LOT TO ME AND I LOVE YOU. I CONFESS THAT IF YOU LOOKED DOWN, WAY DOWN DEEP INSIDE ME, YOU WOULD FIND A WARM HEART WITH A LOT OF WARMTH FOR YOU. YOU WERE SO ~~COMFRTH~~ COMFORTING IN MY TIME OF NEED. I ALSO RESPECT YOU FOR NOT DE-FRIENDING ME WHEN I TREATED YOU SO BADLY AT THE MOTEL PARTY. I MAKE NO EXCUSES, EXCEPT THAT I WAS A BASTARD. WRITE ME WHEN I GO TO COLLEGE. I LOVE YOU,

-Mike

Debbie,
I haven't known you to until this year. But I'm glad I met you. You're really a great girl in every way: looks, personality, well I just everything. I don't know and I'm glad because I don't think I could have stood it any longer. You've made it better after lunch. I know that you'll be glad to get out to. I know that you will go great next year and the rest of your life.
Best wishes in the future.

DOC — oh, wrong title

Dear Mike I would like to thank you whole-heartedly for my last three meals. The few buck a day really keeps my poor working mother in good spirit; she almost has enough money for a new pair of shoes and she has already promised me two meals on the sunday week.

Enough for the ball — I guess you know that a friendship never ends, if there really was one. For some reason this signing of annuals seems like saying good-bye, but it not; It is just saying thanks you — for too many things to be written down. Keep your sense of humor and everything will be all-right.

Love
Mike

Dellia,
You is really the most one of the most beautiful girls at Whitehaven and intelligent. I've always thought that since the first time I saw you. I know you'll go far. Good luck and God bless you.

"The World's Best Yearbooks Are Taylor-made"

Debbie I think you are one of the most understanding girls I know. I love you alot about the poems you read, but don't listen to me, I love poetry very much. I hope we have started a freindship this year that will become closer and last a long time. (To Touch is to feel, To feel is to want, to want is to have, To have is [redacted] happiness) But life doesn't always happen the way you want, so just remember your freinds and you'll have someone to turn to.

Debbie,

Ole buddy, ole pal, I owe great dialogy class. What can I say? The year is almost over and next year your gonna have me. But I won't project the good
That far I'll just project times we're gonna have. This summer and next year. It's been great having such a wonderful, understanding person to talk to.
I hope you, because you're the last in life; because you deserve no less. I know that's typical of me Annnnd but I swear on my love for H.B. to be the truth.

Debbie,
I really don't know you very well but I think you are very nice. I'm not just saying that because you supposed to. I really mean it. I hope I get into some of your classes next year so I can get to know you better. Have a good time and I guess I'll see you this summer.

Love Bobby
